A CATA MOUNT'S LEAP.

It Was to Death, But Through No Fault of the Animal's Agility.
I've seen it disputed in the papers that a wild-cat, or catamount can make a leap of twenty-five feet," said a resident of Sullivan County, New York Sun reporter, "and I would like to mention what I saw a wild-cat do once. I was trout fishing on one of the upper tributaries of the Beaverkill, and had clambered down into a deep ravine to get at a sampling pool at the foot of a fall, where I was sure my casts would be rewarded by the killing of some big trout. I was not mistaken as to that. I had landed four trout, the smallest one eighteen inches long, and sat down to 'rest the pool.' Both sides of the ravine were perpendicular walls of rock, probably twenty-five feet high. The summit of the wall on the side of the creek opposite to me sloped back gradually from its edge for several feet to a heavy growth of pine.

"As I was sitting at the bottom of the ravine I happened to glance up to the top of the rocks opposite me, and saw a hen pheasant accompanied by her newly hatched brood come out of the pines and scratch and peck her way along the sloping open space, hunting food for her young, which clustered closely about her. The pheasant came close to the edge of the precipice, and I could see to my chagrin that she had come to a most dangerous position, when she turned as if to walk back with them to the pines. The instant she turned something like a shadow flitted across the top of the ravine, and half a second later I saw an enormous wild-cat clinging to the edge of the opposite wall by his fore feet, holding the pheasant between his jaws. The wild-cat struggled for a moment to drag himself from the edge of the abyss to a sure footing on the top of the rocks, but his effort was in vain, and he came crashing down the face of the precipice, still holding the luckless pheasant in his jaws. He fell with a splash in the water, and lay motionless at the edge of the pool.

"I suppose that the animal had been watching the pheasant from the bushes on top of the rocks opposite where the bird had appeared with her brood, and at his opportunity had leaped across to seize her, but had misjudged the distance and fallen short, with the result so fatal to him.

"The whirl of the water brought the wild-cat around in a short time to the side where I was standing, and as I was suddenly drawn to examine him, I saw a man with gun screeching down the rocks. The man soon reached my side, and I then learned that he had shot the wild-cat as the animal was flying across the chasm upon his prey. Sure enough, just at the base of the animal's brain was the hole made by the rifle ball. The hunter had been following the wild-cat for some time, and had lost track of him, but came near the edge of the ravine in time to see him make his leap and followed him with the bullet. It was that which had stopped the animal short in the tremendous leap it had calculated on or it would have cleared the space with safety and doubtless with ease. The wild-cat was in reality almost in his death throes when he struck the pheasant, which he clung to with the clutch of death, and still held in his mouth when we dragged him out of the water. We measured the width of the chasm across which the wild-cat had made his death leap. The measurement was forty-three feet.

A WELL-TRAINED EEL.
It Goes Fishing and Peacefully Sleeps at Its Master's Feet.

Billy Benson is the sixteen-year-old son of Farmer Benson, who has a goodly number of acres right along the banks of the Delaware, says the American Sportman. He has been a famous eel-tricher for years, and has been raising as well as an angler. He made up his mind some months ago that an eel could be trained. Accordingly he spared the life of the first that he caught. He took it home and put it in a box, with a glass over it.

After the reptile became quiet Billy fed it from his own hand. Gradually the eel took a liking to the boy. It would wind around the lad's arm and rub its head gently over his sleeve. Then it got so that it would come out of the box and coil itself at Billy's feet and go to sleep. It made no effort to escape. Then it learned to follow the boy around. First it followed him around the room. Then it glided upstairs after him and early in the spring took to sleeping on the pillow beside him.

Billy became as fond of the eel as the latter was fond of Billy. The boy named the reptile Faithful. In a short time the eel knew its name. It will awaken when Billy calls it and start after him. So thoroughly educated has it become that it goes over the farm with the boy. The rapidity with which it can move is remarkable. It keeps right alongside of Billy when he walks a quick pace. But the funniest thing the eel does is to go fishing with Billy. It will lie on a log or in a little pool of water and watch the fish until in numbers of other eels and kill them. It never makes any attempt to get into the river. It is, moreover, a cannibalistic eel and is very fond of small portions of eels' meat, which Billy cuts up with his jackknife. The neighbors go daily to the Benson farm and watch the reptile. Many of them wonder if the eel manages to live out of water, but Billy says natural history is full of such instances. There is plenty of water, however, in Faithful's box, so that he is in his native element most of the time.

5 O'CLOCK EDITION.

THERE is hardly a State in the Union in which public prize-fights are not defined as crimes. Sullivan and Kilrain were compelled to seek a favorable spot in an obscure part of Mississippi. They could not fight in any Northern or Middle State. In some of these States prize-fighting is a felony. In others it is a misdemeanor. In Mississippi it is only a misdemeanor. But the penalty involves imprisonment as well as a heavy fine. Since the day of the contest both Sullivan and Kilrain have been fugitives from justice. They have been compelled to go around by back ways, and much of the time have been hiding for fear of arrest. A business that is outlawed in nearly every State in the Union can never be respectable. Nothing good has incidentally resulted from the recent prize-fight. Two pugilists were able to defy the law. They fought on prohibited ground in spite of the proclamation of the Governor of Mississippi. The two bruisers attracted great numbers of depraved sporting men.

The San Francisco Bulletin says: Sullivan is as noted for his brutal instincts as for his muscle. It goes without saying that the tendency of all such exhibitions is to lawlessness and crime. The men whose pluck, endurance and muscle have been so much exalted, were both criminals on the day of the prize fight. As such, they were obliged to flee from justice. No amount of laudation can efface this stamp. Is it well to write and publish eulogies of bullies and criminals? If it is good in this instance, why may not the eulogies be extended to skillful horse thieves and murderers?

It is evident that there has been a revolt in the public mind against these brutal exhibitions. The attempt to popularize them has been a failure. The law has put a criminal stamp on them. There have been many pitiful attempts to evade the penalty. The glove contests and the exhibitions by associations, where pugilists are hired to come and fight for money, are evasions. Whatever tends to brutality tends also to crime. Even the street gamins took their cue from the pugilists, and began to assault each other with their fists. Batteries were multiplied. The epidemic had a short run. But it is evident that if there were to be one prize fight a month, equal in notoriety to the last, there would be a notable increase in crime. Public opinion against brutal sports is much stronger in some States than in others. The prize fighters sought ground in a State where public sentiment against such exhibitions was supposed to be weakest. Had the exhibition been made in New York or Massachusetts, no amount of laudation would have saved the culprits from long terms of imprisonment.

A PAPER whose editor confesses is only run as a "political weapon," and its only ambition is to please the corporations who own it, is out of place posing as the people's champion. Its editor fears it hurt the GAZETTE's feelings in its article on the Carson river water question, but it need not worry about that score in the least, for its opinions are unworthy of notice. We like to prod it once in a while to hear its sickly whine, only this and nothing more, neighbor. So far as its "influence" goes with the people, it amounts to nothing, for they know its calling and do not expect anything at its hands when the people vs. the corporations are interested, but "copper" it on every proposition. We do not, as a rule, notice it at all, but when we want a little fun it relieves the monotony to prick it a little to see it squirm.

Facing the Music.

BUFFALO, July 19.—Wilson H. Sherman, the absent member of the firm of Sherman Brothers & Co., involved in the grain shortage case, returned to Buffalo to-day and expresses a desire to straighten matters out.

Proposed Boycott.

NEW YORK, July 19.—At the conference of railroad presidents and bankers held to-day, it is understood the question discussed was the boycott on the Chicago and Alton road. No conclusion was reached.

Confesses to the Murder.

LONDON, July 19.—An Englishman was arrested this morning on the charge of having murdered the woman whose body was found on Tuesday at Whitechapel. The prisoner has confessed. He said the woman used an ordinary pocket knife. He declares that he has just arrived from abroad. His actions indicate that he is insane.

The man's identity is carefully concealed for the present by the authorities. He has confessed that he murdered all the women whose bodies have been found in and about the Whitechapel district. He gave the names of the victims, the dates upon which he killed them, and all the gory and indecent details connected with the terrible crimes. The police believe he is a lunatic, but possibly the story he tells is true, and that he is the man for whom they have so long been searching.

Havy Thunder Showers.

CHICAGO, July 19.—The severest thunder storm in many years occurred here last night. An inch of rain fell in twenty minutes. Cellars and basements were flooded, Chinese laundrymen spent the night perched on their tables, and basement lodgers were driven into the street. Much property was damaged.

CINCINNATI, July 19.—A heavy thunder storm at 3 o'clock this morning flooded a portion of the town. The Ohio canal broke at York street, and a number of persons were rescued with difficulty. The storm is general in the State. The lightning set fire to the little village of Georgetown, Franklin county, and half of the town was destroyed.

ALPENA, Mich., July 19.—The large mill of W. L. and T. B. Churhill was struck by lightning this morning and burned to the ground; loss, $170,000.

Payment Made—A New Inspector.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The Secretary of the Navy has made a fourth payment of $60,550 to the Berresford Company at Newport for the construction of a torpedo boat being built for the United States.

The Secretary of the Treasury has written to the Collector of Customs at Port Townsend, W. T., calling attention to complaints of excessive delays in passing and in the inspection of tea at that port, and requesting him to be less dilatory in the future. In one case it is alleged that fourteen days elapsed between the date of the importation of tea which is free of duty, and the time when the inspection was finished.

Northern Pacific Affairs.

NEW YORK, July 19.—The Northern Pacific Railroad Directors yesterday referred to the Finance Committee the final plan for the future management of that property. This plan is Villard's idea as to a dividend policy and as the Northern Pacific's future relations with the Manitoba and other northwestern companies. Friends of the company said yesterday that payments of dividends on the Northern Pacific preferred stocks would be soon announced officially, and promised that the various entanglements of the company would be wholly straightened out right away, and that rival and allied companies would be kept in lasting harmony.

The Returned Jury Briber.

Special to the GAZETTE.] SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Ex-Senator D. J. Creighton, convicted as a jury briber, who returned to this city last week and surrendered to the police after an absence of nearly two years, appeared before Judge Sullivan this morning for sentence, but the case went over for a week in order to arrange for proceeding for a new trial. Creighton is still in jail.

A MURDER TRIAL.

LONDON, July 19.—The trial of the son of Wm. O'Brien against Lord Salisbury for slander, began today. O'Brien testified that he never incited to murder or robbery, either upon the editor or in his paper, the United Ireland. That he never advocated crime. The counsel for Lord Salisbury subjected O'Brien to a searching cross-examination. He aimed to show that witness' editorial articles and speeches justified the language used by Salisbury and Date Storms.

ST. PAUL, July 19.—Reports from many and widely separated points in Montana and Dakota report severe storms of hail and rain yesterday. The weather has been excessively hot. In places the crops are burned up by the heat, in others, damaged by the water. The streams are rising, and serious overflows are feared.

Large Delegations Wanted.

KANSAS CITY, July 19.—Major General, Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R., has issued a general order which urges all G. A. R. folks to send as large delegations as possible to the National Encampment at Milwaukee.

Did Not Take.

ST. PAUL, July 19.—Owing to an insufficient number securing tickets, the running of the proposed golden gate special train to Puget sound has been postponed until next Saturday.

Eclipse Wishes.

LONDON, July 19.—At the Sandown Park races, Eclipse stakes, mile and a quarter, Ayrshire won; El Dorado second and Seclusion third.

Knights of Labor.

CHICAGO, July 18.—General Master Workman Powderly of the Knights of Labor and his coadjutors, Holland, Wright, Hoyse, Devin and Costello, got fairly down to business to-day and made considerable progress in examining complaints, petitions and reports in relation to the Order in the Northwest.

"The charter of the first assembly in France," said Powderly, "was prepared this morning and started on its way to the old country in the hands of Mrs. Barley."

"Is anything being done by your Board to bring back the seceding members of the Knights of Labor who have organized a rival Order?" was asked.

"Oh, no."

Then there was a general running talk on the course to be pursued by the Order to solve the problem of labor troubles. Said Mr. Powderly:

"It is a question easy of solution to the thinker and the reader of to-day, and the only remedy is the secret ballot, where a citizen can vote without fearing to express his own feelings.

Another lesson will be the teaching of members in regard to some reformed Socialistic theories—that the coal fields belong to the Government, for instance, and should be run without profit to the Government, or the lease of lands to firms who shall continue their operation steadily, a lock-out or shut-down to result in the forfeiture of the lease."

The next general session of the Knights of Labor will be at Atlanta, commencing on the second Tuesday in November.

Federal Appointments.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The President has made the following appointments: Wm. A. Richards, of Wyoming Surveyor General of Wyoming. Registers of land offices: Edward H. Chapman, of Wyoming, at Cheyenne, Wyo., Martin J. Wright of California, at Visalia, Cal.; and John A. McBeth of Colorado, at Denver.

Captain Goo, Dewy, to be Chief of the Bureau of Equipment and Recruiting in the Department of the Navy, with relative rank of Commodore.

Receiver of Public Money: Robert L. Froman of California at Visalia, California; and Leroy Grant of Wyoming at Cheyenne, Wyoming. Indian Agents: T. J. Bufford of Oregon at Siletz Agency in Oregon; and P. W. McGinn of Washington Territory at Neah Agency, W. T.

The President appointed the following postmasters: Mrs. Laura G. Bates at Anaheim, Cal., vice L. Gardner, removed; Major Hiram T. Batchelor at Chico, Cal., vice Robinson McG. Jones, resigned; and Benjamin Fish at Santa Clara, Cal., vice I. N. Thomson, removed.

Large Steel Rail Order.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—The Examiner will say to-morrow that it is definitely settled that C. P. Huntington, First Vice-President of the Southern Pacific Company, has placed an order for 30,000 tons of steel rails with Eastern rolling mills for the Southern Pacific railroad. Commenting on this above, the paper says: "This order was given in view of the fact that the company desires to construct as soon as possible new branch lines in this State that will add some 337 miles of track to its local system. The supply of rails now on hand is sufficient for 37 miles of the proposed extensions, and the order just given will furnish enough rails for the remaining 300 miles. Of the proposed new roads 129 miles will be in San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara counties, and 208 will be wholly within San Joaquin Valley.

Timely Advice.

Let us give the readers of the GAZETTE a little timely advice. Hot weather is coming and with it colic, cholera morbus, dysentery diarrhea. The only safe way to combat these diseases is to keep a reliable remedy at hand, and all who have tried Chamberlain's Colic, Chronic and Diarrhea Remedy will admit that it is the most prompt, reliable and successful medicine known for these complaints. It costs but 25 or 50 cents and may be the means of saving you or your family much suffering, if not life itself, before the Summer is over. For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

A. Nelson, the enterprising free employment office agent, and well-known for his fine cigars, tobacco, pipes and yankee notions, has taken the agency for Dr. Willey's Discovery, the greatest liniment on earth, for aches, pains, coughs, colds, catarrh, asthma and bronchial affections. Also a full line of "Diamata" spectacles and eye glasses. Buy goods as cheaply as anyone in Reno and can therefore defy competition.

Consumption Incurable?
Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with aches of lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable consumptive. Begun taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made." Jessie Middlewart, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of lung troubles; was given up by doctors; am now in health again. Took sample bottles free at Hodgkinson's drug store."

To be Abolished.

The Committee on the Bill of Rights in the Washington Constitutional Convention, has resolved to abolish the Grand Jury system, making a commitment by the Justice of the Peace equivalent to an indictment. In special emergencies, however, the Judge can call a Grand Jury for certain specific work.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to merit no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise. A pure medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the liver and kidneys, will remove pimples, boils, salt rheum and other afflictions caused by impure blood. The Meanest Man Found.
The leading candidate for meanest man in the United States lives in Milton, Penn. He refused to give up some timber that floated on his lot, and which belonged to a man who had re-claimed him from his flood-wrecked house.

An Emigration Scheme.
Hon. W. L. Edgerton, a prominent colored policeman of Kansas, is engineering a scheme to induce the negroes of the South to emigrate to Oklahoma.

For strengthening and clearing the voice, use Brown's Bronchial Troches. "I have commended them to friends who were public speakers, and they have proved extremely serviceable."—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.

DANGEROUSLY HURT By Being Violently Thrown Out of a Cart.

The Truckee Republican of the 17th instant says: This afternoon at about half-past one o'clock, Frank Champion and wife were riding in a cart bound for Cold Stream. When about a mile from town the cart struck a rock and Mr. Champion was thrown violently backwards out of the cart, and struck on his head with the whole weight of his body. The fall rendered him unconscious. Two men happened to be near and took care of the injured man while Mrs. Champion came to town for medical assistance. A carriage was taken to the spot and the unconscious man was taken to his home, and Dr. Curless summoned. An examination, while it did not disclose any fracture or dislocation of the neck, showed that there had been a very severe concussion and that the body was paralyzed, but to what extent, or whether permanently or not, is not known at this writing. He has partially regained consciousness, but can move or speak. It is a most serious accident, but it is to be hoped that he will soon recover.

FAMOUS FRENCH PRINCESS:

A Former Associate of Empress Eugenia.

A Paris correspondent writes: The most stylishly dressed lady on the race-course when the Grand Prix was run was the Princess of Matternich, of world-wide fame for her taste, elegance and Esprit. Everybody will remember what an important position she held here when, under the last Empire, her husband represented the Austrian Court at the Tuilleries. There, together with the Empress Eugenie, she set the fashions for the world. She has visited Paris but seldom since the Napoleons disappeared.

On Sunday last she sat in the grandstand, dressed in a magnificent silk dress of sulphur color, surrounded by all the ladies who now hold a leading position in Paris Society. She was shown over the lawns by Mr. Ridgeway, the champion galant of the American colony in Paris. Mr. Ridgeway is in close relationship with some of the very best French families, his sisters and cousins being married to well-known counts and marquises.
